The American English Institute offers several English language programs for adults who want to improve their English proficiency in order to perform effectively in an academic or professional setting:

- Intensive English Program
- Academic English for International Students Program
- International Graduate Teaching Fellow Program
- online distance education (e-learning) program
- special short-term program

Institute instructors are university faculty members with specialized training in linguistics, applied linguistics, or teaching English as a second language. Classes begin in September, January, March, and June.

Intensive English Program

This program consists of a basic seven-level curriculum and an elective curriculum.

The basic seven-level curriculum is divided into two combined skill areas: oral communication, which emphasizes speaking and listening, and written communication, which emphasizes reading and composition.

The elective curriculum consists of optional courses that focus on areas of special concern or interest to students, including Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) preparation, business English, pronunciation, and academic vocabulary.

Other services and facilities, including an audio-digital laboratory and a Macintosh computer laboratory, help students develop English proficiency. Advanced students may enroll, with approval from the institute, in one regular university course. Trained and supervised tutors help students with course work, conversation, listening, reading, composition, and pronunciation.

Academic English for International Students

This program is offered to matriculated students who have scored between 500 and 575 on the paper-based TOEFL, between 61 and 88 on the Internet-based TOEFL, or below 7.0 on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) examination, or who request additional training in English as a second language for academic work. Courses are offered in listening, speaking, reading and vocabulary, and writing. A placement test is required before registering. These courses earn university credit and are taken at the same time as other university course work. Information about this program is available from the American English Institute main office, its advising office, and the Office of International Affairs.

International Graduate Teaching Fellow Program

English courses are offered to international teaching assistants who need or want help in improving English for use in the classroom. Courses are offered to improve listening and speaking abilities, pronunciation, and university-level teaching and classroom interaction skills. Information about this program is available from the institute office, the Office of International Affairs, and the Graduate School.

Distance Learning

The institute offers several online e-learning courses and video conferencing workshops in language-teacher training. Specialized distance courses can also be designed upon request.

Short-Term Programs

The institute designs and teaches short-term programs for groups of students. Programs may target areas of interest such as business, university preparation, American language and culture, or second-language teaching methodology.

Student Services

The institute’s services for students in the intensive and short-term programs include host families, an academic advisor, an extensive orientation program before classes begin, and planned activities in Eugene and Oregon.

Admission Procedures

The institute’s Intensive English Program is open to students who have successfully completed secondary school and are able to demonstrate sufficient financial support for study at the institute. Students are advised to study English for a minimum of six months prior to admission. To apply, submit the following materials:
